Meidum Pyramid and Pyramid of Senusret II

After checking out of your hotel, your driver will pick you up for the 1.5 hour ride to Faiyum. Visit Meidum Pyramid The Meidum Pyramid was built by Pharaoh Sneferu during the 4th Dynasty. It represents the development of pyramid architecture, beginning as a stepped pyramid with mastaba terraces, before smoothing and sloping the sides. However, the pyramid partially collapsed, perhaps during construction, and went unused. Sneferu continued to refine pyramid construction with the Bent Pyramid, before finalizing the design with the Red Pyramid. Visit the Pyramid of Senusret II The Pyramid of Senusret II at Lahun is a mud-brick pyramid that was originally covered by limestone. It has a number of subterranean passageways leading to the funerary chambers, with the main burial chamber featuring a vaulted ceiling and red granite sarcophagus. DAY 5

Tombs of Beni Hassan, Tunah Al Jabal

After breakfast, your driver and your guide will pick you up at your Minya hotel and travel with you throughout your day. They are striking primarily for their intricate painted wall scenes, demonstrating daily and ritual life during the period. Visit the Greco-Roman necropolis of Tunah Al Jabal Tunah Al Jabal (or “Tuna el-Gebel”) dates primarily to the Ptolemaic period of Egypt, when it was used as a necropolis for the nearby city of Hermopolis. Mazelike catacombs filled with animal mummies indicate it was also a pilgrimage site for Thoth, the Egyptian god of wisdom. On the outskirts of Tunah Al Jabal is one of the boundary stela of Ahkenaten, marking the edge of the ancient city of Amarna. Return to your hotel in Minya

DAY 6

Tell al Amarna

After breakfast, your driver and your guide will pick you up at your Minya hotel and travel with you throughout your day. Visit Tell al Amarna Tell al Amarna was built by the pharaoh Ahkenaten (Amenhotep IV), who moved the capital city from Thebes to Amarna. This ancient site was well-preserved as it was abandoned after the death of Ahkenaten. Amarna is especially known for its art, dramatically different from most other periods of Egyptian aesthetic - one stunning example is the famous bust of Nefertiti, the wife of Ahkenaten. Tour the Tombs of the Nobles at Amarna and the Royal Tomb of Ahkenaten The Royal Tomb of Ahkenaten features a main burial chamber for the king, a side chamber for his daughter Meketaten, and other unfinished rooms likely intended for other members of the royal family. Much of the tomb was intentionally defaced due to the heretical legacy of this divisive pharaoh. After your visit, you will continue along the Nile Valley with a 4-hour drive to Abydos Check into your hotel at Abydos and evening at your leisure

Temple of Abydos and Dendera Temple of Hathor

One of the decorations is the List of Kings, which lists 76 pharaohs from the old to new kingdoms. This list is one of the most complete to date and helped to provide clarity on the names and period of some of the ancient rulers. Behind the temple sits the Osirion, the symbolic tomb of the god Osiris. Lunch in Abydos Visit Dendera Temple of Hathor Dendera is home to the Ptolemaic-era Temple of Hathor. It had long been a site dedicated to the goddess, and was frequented by pilgrims throughout antiquity. The rear of the temple includes a relief of Cleopatra, the last Ptolemaic ruler of Egypt, and her son fathered by Julius Caesar. Drive to Luxor (approximately 3 hours) and check into your hotel. Overnight in Luxor.

Luxor Museum, Valley of the Kings, Valley of the Nobles

After breakfast, your driver and your guide will pick you up from your Luxor hotel. The museum is also home to two royal mummies, Ahmose I and Ramesses I. Private visit to the Valley of the Kings The Valley of the Kings, located on the west bank of Luxor, is the home to many royal tombs from the new kingdom. The discovery of the nearly-intact tomb of King Tutankhamun in 1922 completely transformed Egyptian archeology and led to the Valley of the Kings becoming one of the most famous archeological sites in the world. More than 65 known tombs are located in the Valley and have been cut directly into the rock. Many of these tombs are still adorned with beautiful carvings and paintings, as befit their royal occupants. Visit the Tombs of the Nobles The Tombs of the Nobles is located on the West Bank of Luxor, near the Valley of the Kings. It offers a unique glimpse into the lives of ancient Egyptian elites. You will see tombs with vividly painted scenes, depicting the daily life of Egyptians - farming, fishing, crafts, music, banquets. It is one of the largest temples in Egypt and has a number of unique and outstanding archeological features, including a number of granaries with brick archways and the famous “Ozymandias Colossus” (coined by Percy Bysshe Shelley in his poem “Ozymandias”).
